

Stephenson Avenue Extension Phase Two Outcomes of Round 1 Engagement: Community Engagement and Project Impacts

What you told us

In August 2022, we asked for your feedback to help guide how we communicate and engage with you, and to inform what's important to you in how we manage construction impacts in the community. This is what you told us.

We also consulted with community members from the City of Stirling's Reconciliation Action Plan Working Group to ensure Aboriginal voices were heard.

Where you come from

Your preferred ways to receive communications about the project

Project updates

- Project newsletters emailed directly to project subscribers
- Project webpage

Roadworks

- On-road electronic message signs
- Emailed roadworks updates to project subscribers

Construction works

- Communications via my letterbox
- Emailed directly to project subscribers

These were the top 5 elements you want to influence on this project

- Vegetation management
- Management of construction impacts
- Public art
- Landscaping
- Employment and business opportunities for Aboriginal people

96% agree with the project's approach to engaging the community and stakeholders

87% agree with the project's approach to managing construction impacts

96% believe that community and stakeholder feedback will result in better project outcomes