Yaka Dandjoo Sustainable Employment Program

Yaka Dandjoo is focused on providing new employment opportunities for young people, people over 45 years old, women and Aboriginal people who are unemployed or have never been employed.

The Yaka Dandjoo program has recently reached a milestone with the most recent cohort of 16 graduates bringing the total number of graduates up to 151 since October 2021.

This program has helped participants, the majority of whom are Aboriginal and/or women, undergo professional training to prepare them for entry into the workforce.

If your business is looking to hire, please email Jackie.Graham@swgateway.com.au for recruitment opportunities.

Business briefings

A total of 15 briefings have been hosted to provide businesses with information on upcoming project work packages.

To enable more targeted discussions, during the last five briefings, invitations were sent to a smaller group of project-specific industries. This approach allowed briefing content to be highly tailored, providing attendees with detailed requirements of work packages. Recent briefings discussed packages relating to drainage, hard and soft landscaping, Form, Reinforcement and Pour (FRP) structures services, local roads, structural and miscellaneous steel, noise mitigation, and renovation works.

Invitations for future business briefings will be sent to businesses that offer services relating to the upcoming packages.

Local business engagement

A key target during the construction of BORR has been to spend a minimum $450 million with local South West businesses. As of June 2023, we are proud to announce that the project has committed works and services in excess of these targets, with actual spends continuing to grow.

$545.4 million has been committed to local businesses, with $259.3 million of this being spent to date. This spend has meant that 307 South West businesses have been able to be engaged on the project so far. This includes 84 businesses with spend in excess of $50,000 and 35 businesses with spend over $1 million.

Please note, business weighting is calculated according to a local weighting criteria agreed by the Local Business Advisory Group (LBAG), which includes members from local South West businesses, organisations, local government and government agencies.

More than 300 South West businesses have contributed to the construction of BORR by providing earthworks, plant hire and drainage installation. A snapshot of further services provided by local businesses are demonstrated in the figure below.
