Opportunities for your business on BORR

The Bunbury Outer Ring Road (BORR) may now be well past 50 per cent completion, but there are still many opportunities for local and Aboriginal businesses to get involved.

In this newsletter, you'll find an update on the recent business engagement, awarded packages and upcoming procurement opportunities that may suit your business.

Creating more opportunity through our Delivery Strategy

The BORR team have developed a comprehensive Delivery Strategy to help provide businesses and stakeholders with a more thorough understanding of future works on the project, including scope, timing, and scale.

The Delivery Strategy contains helpful information regarding upcoming packages across key areas on the project, including:

- Earthworks and drainage
- Structures
- Landscaping
- Miscellaneous e.g., barriers and rails, line marking and anti-graffiti, and steel

To access the Delivery Strategy, visit the Main Roads Western Australia website here.

BORR is now on LinkedIn

The Bunbury Outer Ring Road project is now on LinkedIn. This social media platform allows professionals to connect with peers in the same industry, apply for new roles, upskill, and undertake training, or learn from experts across a range of sectors.

We'll be using LinkedIn to post updates on the project, promote new recruitment opportunities and connect with businesses interested in upcoming work packages. Make sure to connect and follow our page by clicking here.

Infrastructure Sustainability Council Awards

Main Roads and the South West Gateway Alliance are proud to have received two Infrastructure Sustainability Council (ISC) awards. The ISC Awards recognised the social and economic outcomes that the BORR project is achieving by awarding the project team the ISC award for Excellence in Social Outcomes and Excellence in Economic Outcomes.

The Infrastructure Sustainability Council, through its awards, advance sustainability leadership by acknowledging exemplary practices within the infrastructure sectors across Australia and New Zealand. For the BORR project, this highlights our commitment to advancing local industry capabilities and providing employment opportunities for those previously unemployed.
